A Burl Production

What's up fool? I'm Burl.

Some of you liked my guide to Einhasad, but there were questions about The Incident.

The questions were mostly “What the fuck is it?” and “How dare you bring that up you Blacklisted spy!”

So I am here to welcome you to part 369 of our ongoing lecture series. In this part, we will talk about The Incident, and how its aftermath has changed the face of America for decades to come.

ENCORE ALLIANCE

The alliance that made Legendary their bitch

I'm over here now.

Before we get to The Incident, we need to talk about the Encore Alliance and how much cooler it was than Horde or F4 are now.

Best Cruma had an alliance without a name that was rad as fuck and owned fools.

Eventually we decided to name it Encore after Shaved threw a fit over my idea for a Carebear theme.

Funshine will live forever in my heart.

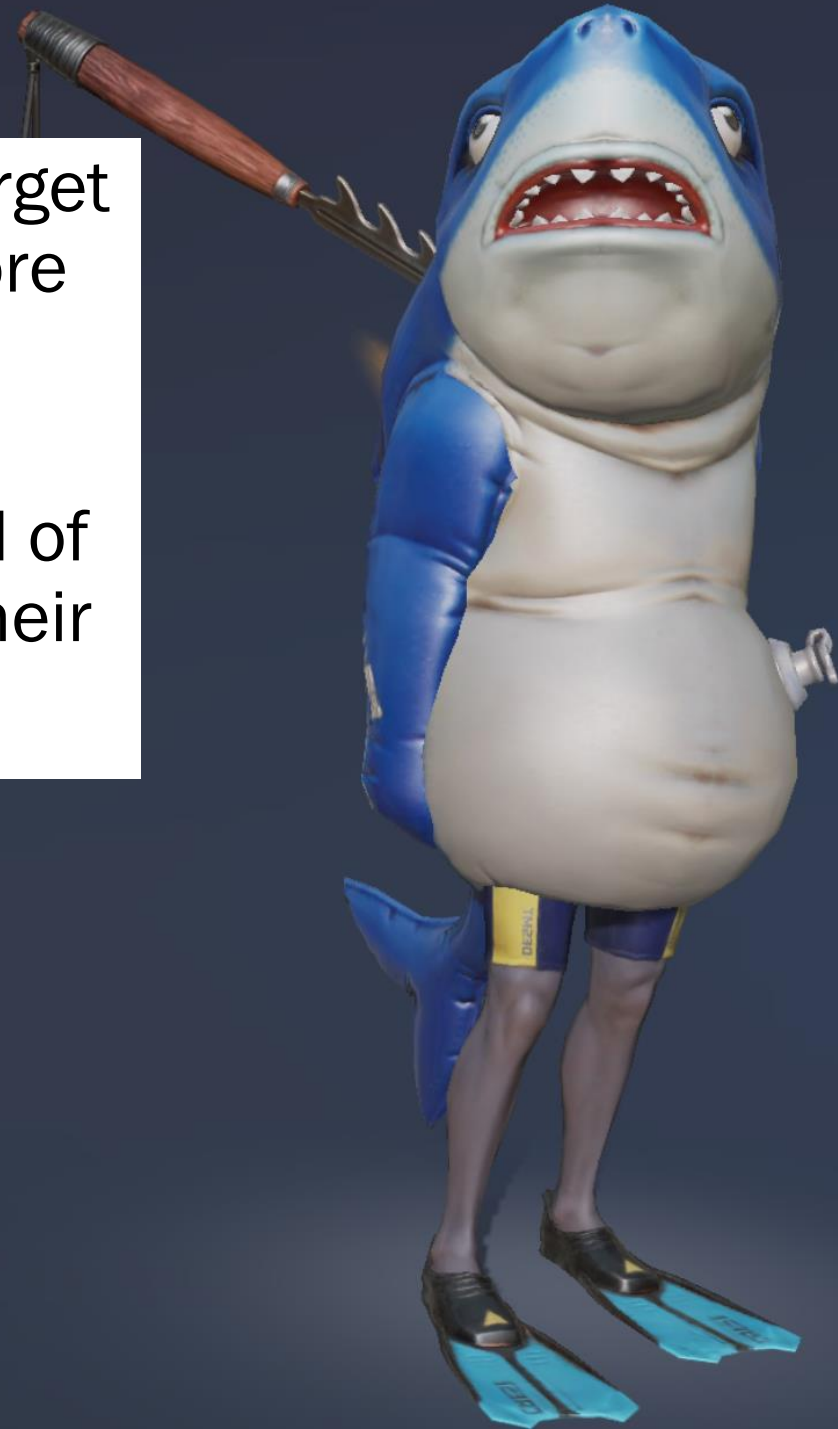

Encore consisted of,
Blacklisted
Inventors Guild
Exiled#
War Temple

Fira and another clan that I forget the name of were also in Encore for a bit, but they left when I arrived.

I assume that they were afraid of me and decided to leave for their own safety.

The foundation for The Incident was cemented with the death of Inventors.

Now I don't know what happened for sure, but I heard that it involved Rayvn wanting to lead Inventors. Here is how I think that went down.

BL time mother
fuckers

Inventors

Rayvn

Can I be leader now?

Yves

lol no

People fled Inventors for Redrum and Blacklisted, with the lower CP people going to Redrum.

PurpleCow took his sexy ass to Exiled# because he is a rebel.

Yves stayed in Inventors and lived by himself for a while.

Inventors had a shitload of stuff in the clan storage, so I imagine that he was fine with this situation.

Here is a surveillance photo taken from the Inventors clan hall a few days after everyone was kicked out.

With a condensed roster of two high CP clans, 2 mid CP clans, and the rotting corpse of Guild, Encore continued to dunk all over Leg and their allies like never before.

Encore owned both castles, and Leg tried everything they could to get one.

This included,
Countdowns

This included,
Countdowns
Blaming everything on Civic Tapping the iPad very hard
And eventually just merging every clan in to Legendary

But Encore never lost, motherfucker.

Leadup to The Incident

Whut hated me

With a server merger upcoming, Encore did the thing with Bad Cruma that F4 apparently forgot to do with Gran Kain: negotiate an alliance with clans on the other server.

Now, I was an officer during this time, but Whut hated me, so he only involved all of the other Guild officers in these negotiations.

The fuck was up with that, Whut?

From my understanding of things, the options were as follows:

BL wanted to ally Forsaken Funbunch

War Temple wanted to ally Friends4ever

Some things happened that I wasn't privy to because of The Hatred, but Encore decided to become "friends" with F4.

Now, because Icep0int are weird, there wasn't an official alliance agreement between F4 and Encore.

Instead, we had some “neutrality” thing that was never clearly defined.

This also meant that alliance talks with F4 lasted past the server merger, which was confusing as fuck and really dumb.

Technically, negotiations lasted in to 2019.

Again, IP are very weird people.

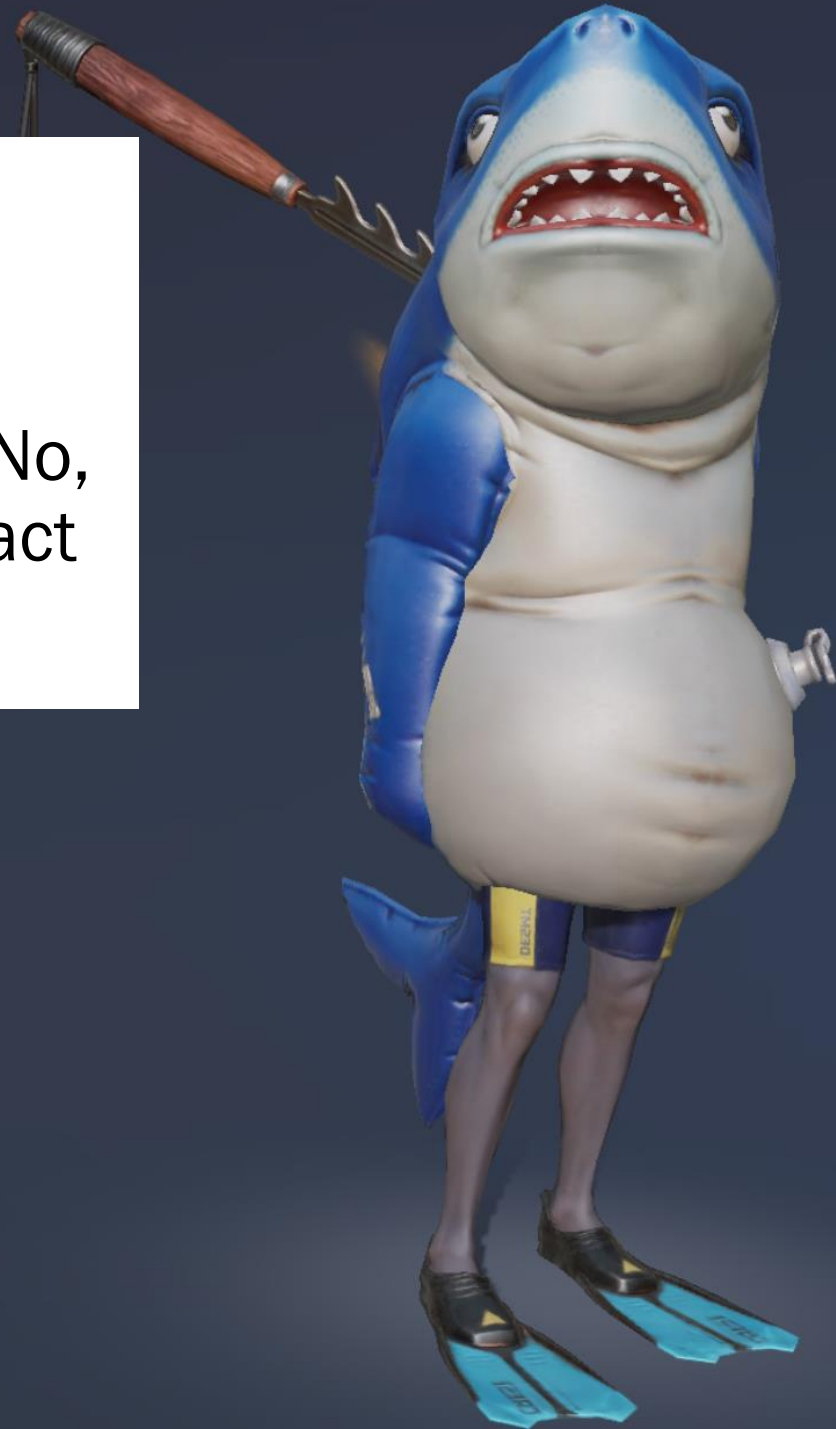

This Encore-F4 neutrality pact apparently worked under the laws of quantum mechanics, as any time you would look at this pact, it suddenly would change.

While the alliances were “neutral,” F4 loved to pk them some Encore AFKs.

It was really fun telling Guild “No, F4 are friendlies despite the fact that they keep pking you all”

Eventually Blacklisted got sick of
This Shit and went to war with F4.

The other clans in the alliance reacted swiftly to BL's war.

GoW were like “Fuck no, IP are our friends n’ shit”

Redrum backed BL since they’re Pals4Life.

I don’t know what Guild’s response was because of The Hatred.

Exiled# were also there.

The BL-F4 war put a strain on F4-Encore relations, probably because Icep0int and co. thought that we were all BL spies.

This all lead up to The Incident.

The Incident

Encore fucked up

ANTARCTIC WALL

PROJECT

The Incident was a meeting of Encore officers to discuss the F4-BL war and what the fuck was up with it.

The Incident still pisses this shark off, so I may get a bit irritated during this part of the lecture.

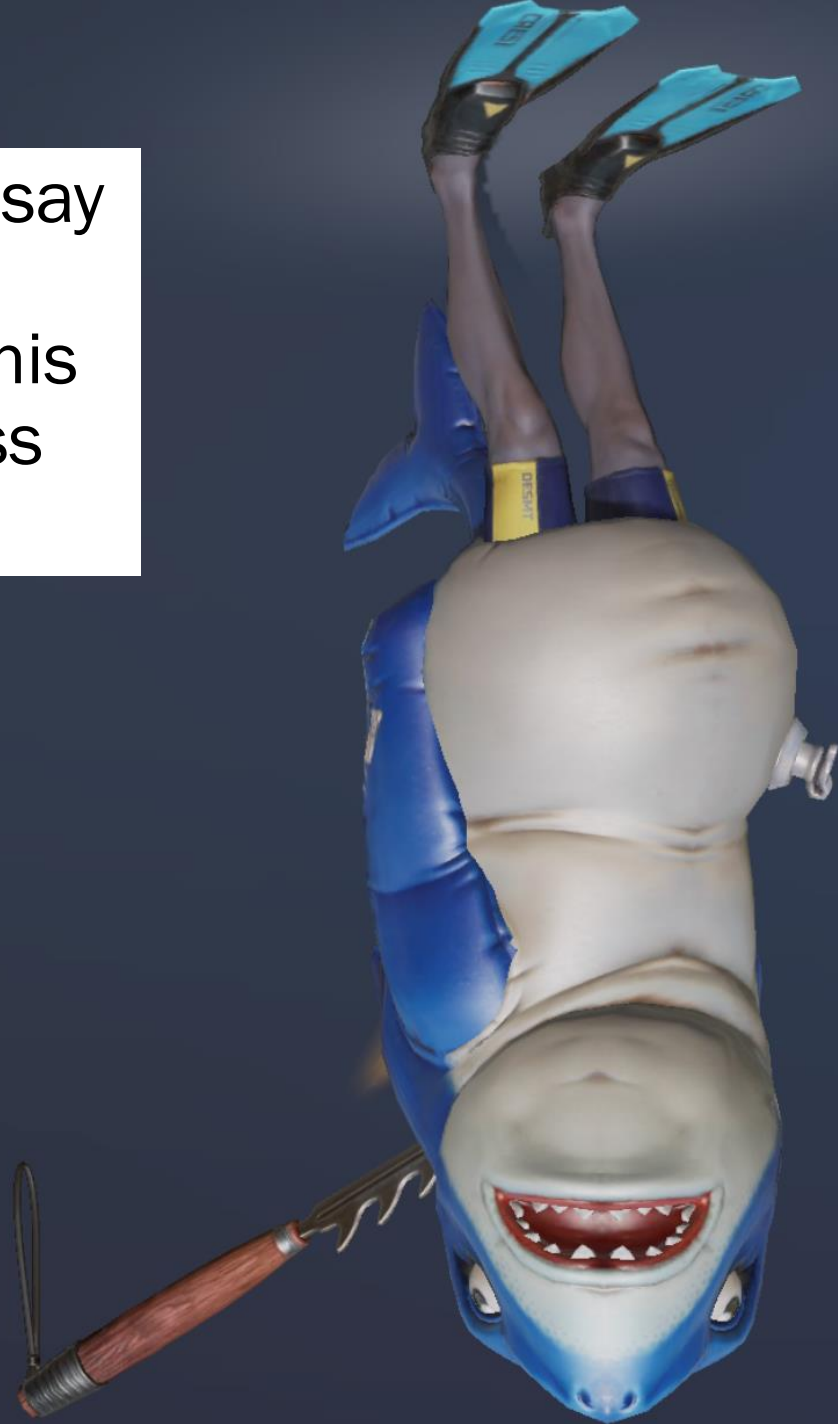

There are two accounts of The Incident: the one that actually happened, and the one that some current F4 officers think happened.

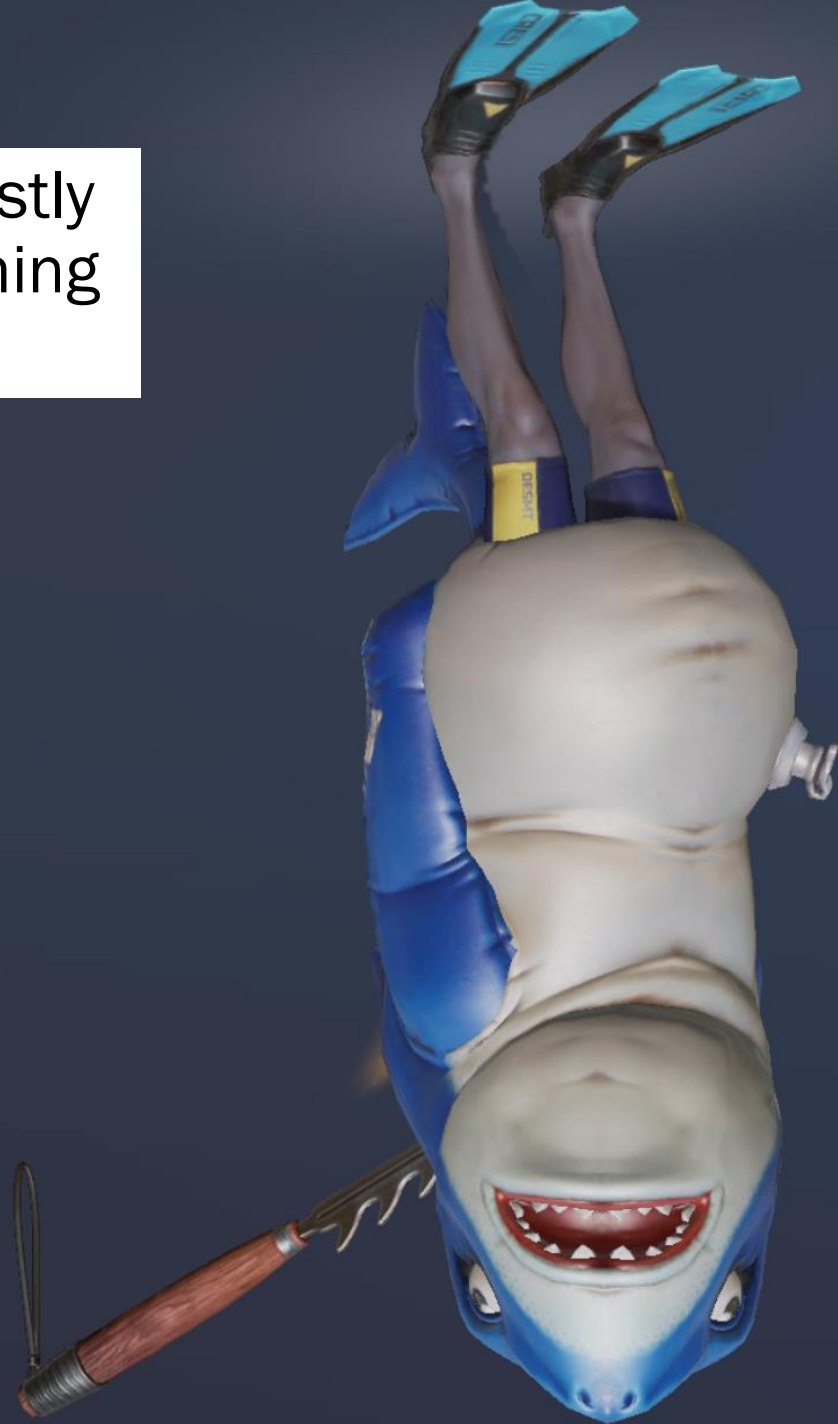

I am a fair shark, so I will “fairly” present both sides.

For transparency's sake, I will say that I don't like some of the people and clans involved in this story. Here's a fun game, guess which ones!

As far as the meeting itself, I mostly sided with Blacklisted on everything except for allying Legendary.

The F4 version

I flipped a coin to decide which side would go first and it rolled under my desk, so I picked F4 to go first since I had already made a slide.

The F4 version

Before we get in to their story, let's meet the player involved.

The Players – BL side

-Rayvn-
Encore Leader and Speech Enthusiast

-Cherby-Hoodie lover, I cant remember if he was there

-InPHAMous-Blacklisted
Leader, I think

-Redrum-Blacklisted
Sister clan

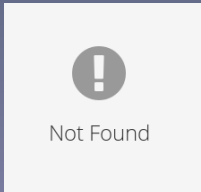

-The other one-
There was another officer
there.

-Blacklisted-
It's a clan

The Players – The Other Side

-Whut-Guild Leader and Burl
Hater

-Regium-Exiled# Leader
and Burl
Hater

-Illrysea-GoW Officer and McGriddle lover

-BL Officer-Leaker of Things and Probable Burl
Hater

-Rinealias-GoW Officer and Tiny

-Burl-Maker of PowerPoints

-RobertHuynh-
I called him Ribs
at the time.

The F4 version – Before The Incident

This neutral shit is boring.

Yeah, I've kind of cut back on

The F4 version – Before The Incident

I've got an idea! Let's make up a story about F4 pking us so we can have a war!

Brilliant idea, Cherby! You go make the photoshops, I have a speech to write.

*loudly eating puppies*

The F4 version – Before The Incident

I've got another idea, let's kick Guild and Exiled# out and ally Legendary!

Someone get MacArthur on the phone, we have a genius over here!

I BETTER TELL WHUT, GOW, AND REGIUM, ABOUT THIS!

The F4 version

Wasn't that a wonderful story?

The real version

Now let's get in to the real shit, son.

The real version

This story begins with a BL officer leaking discord screenshots to some Encore clan leaders.

The real version

These screenshots showed Cherby talking about possibly allying Legendary, and some other stuff that was so boring that I forget what it was.

The real version

Somehow this turned in to some shit about BL trying to run Encore without consenting the other clans, and that Guild and Exiled# were being pushed out.

The real version

A meeting was called to discuss the F4-BL war, but it was really about presenting the evidence of BL's betrayal and voting to boot BL out.

The real version

This meeting was four hours long, and it was very boring. BL got caught up in some lies, but who cares.

The real version

Rin made a poop joke that was pretty good. Someone may have a screenshot of it, but I sadly do not.

The real version

The short version of the meeting is:

BL wants war with F4

GoW, Guild, Exiled# offer neutrality

BL doesn't accept that, and instead BL wants to fight F4 and Horde – three-way server

People get mad at BL for leaving Exiled# and Guild out of a castle rotation, even though it makes sense to leave them out.

GoW says that they support Encore, for some reason

BL doesn't say anything

Regium gets mad and shows some screenshots

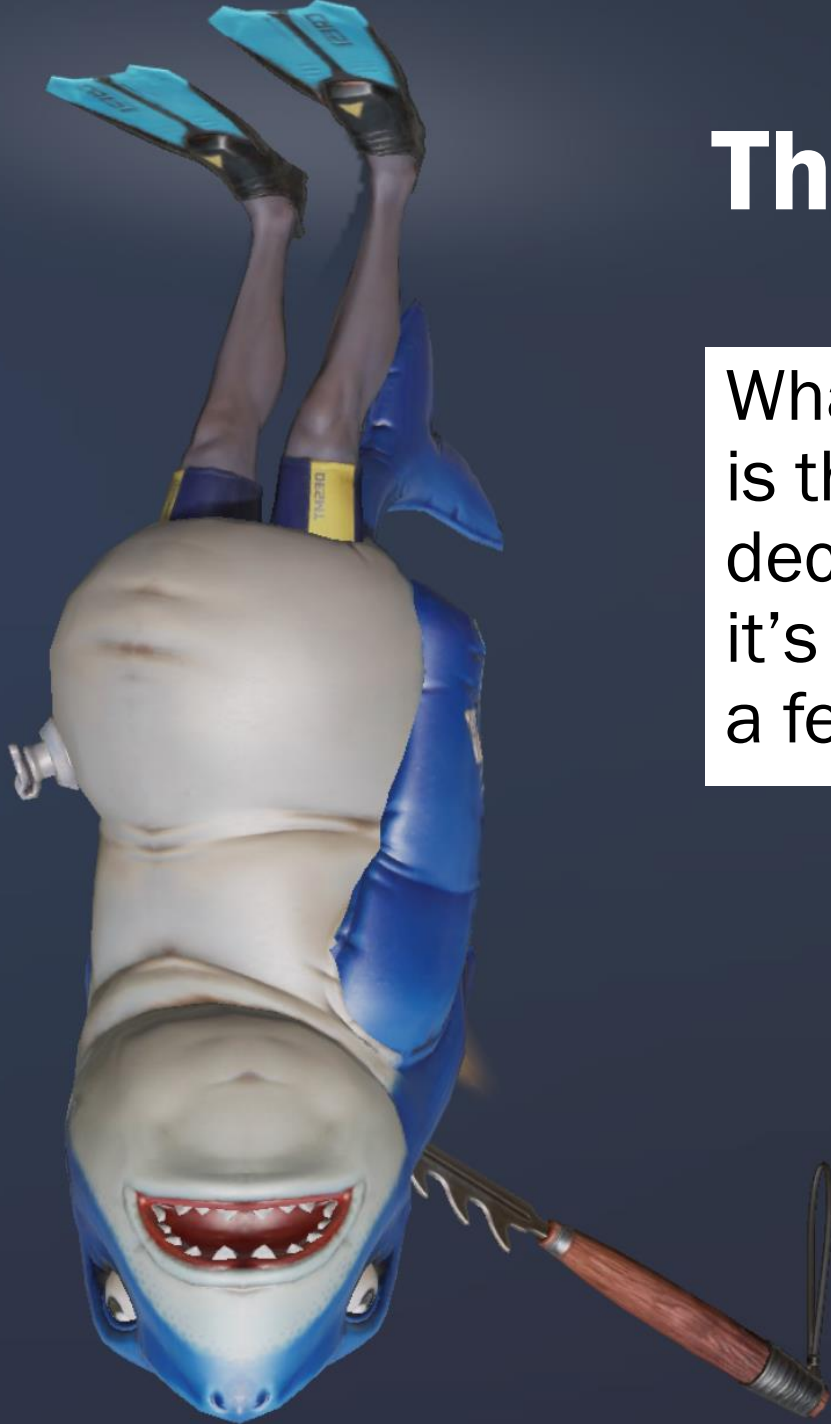

Regium gets mad

Regium gets mad, again.

Regium gets mad and calls a vote to suspend BL

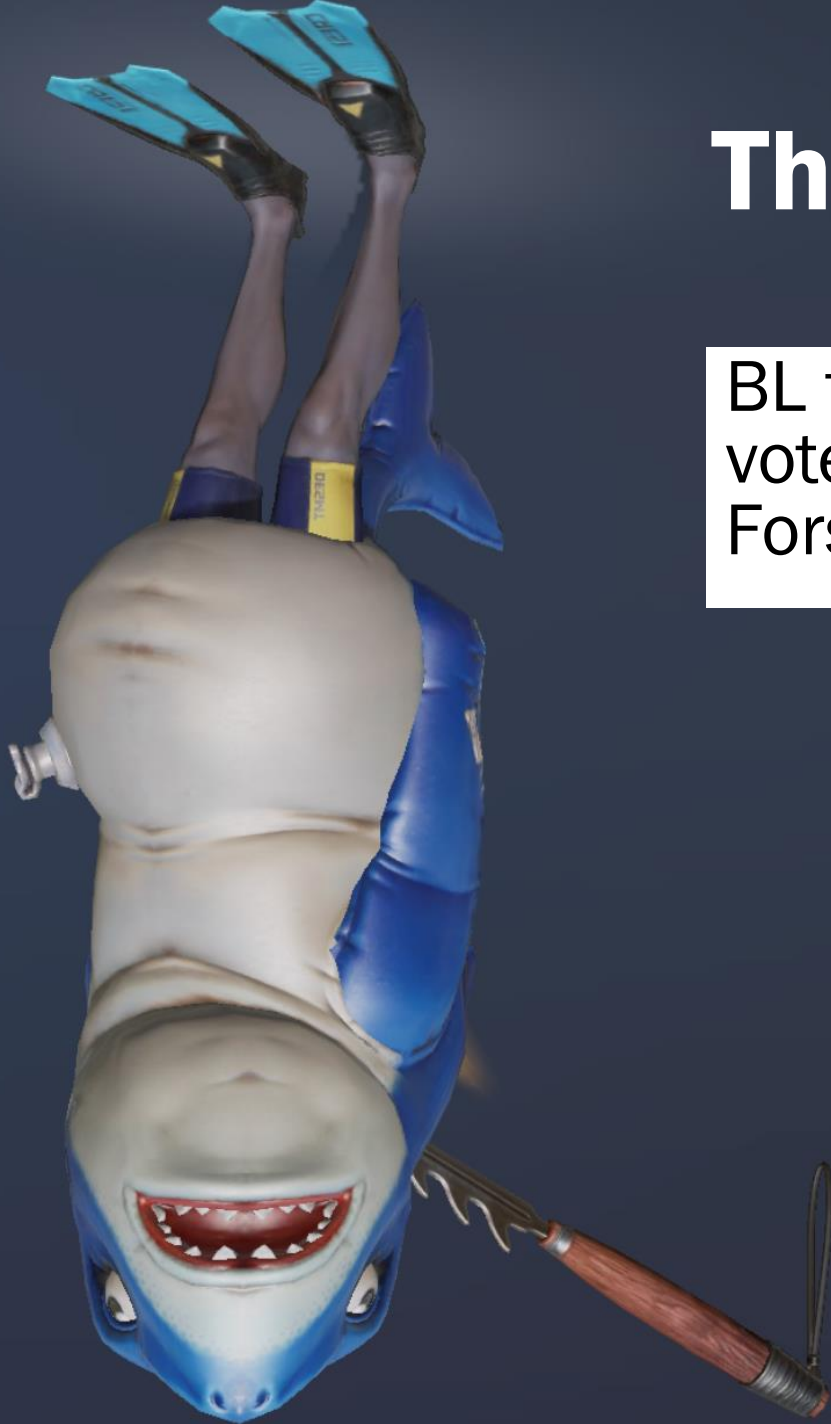

Only Whut, Regium, Illrysea, and XxJessiexX are allowed to vote

Vote passes 3:1

The real version

What I learned from that meeting is that it's wrong for Blacklisted to decide things for everyone, but it's okay when Whut, Regium, and a few other people do that.

The real version

BL then held a clan meeting and BL voted to leave Encore and ally Forsaken.

The real version

This vote was taken as a sign that BL didn't back Encore, for some reason.

I took it as "Well, Encore don't support us so we should find an alliance that does."

The real version

BL left for Horde, abandoning the cool 3-way idea.

Encore died almost immediately after this.

The real version

Encore's discord went from 100+ posts per day to barely 10, and most of those were just me talking to myself.

After The Incident

RIP Encore

Shit got bad after BL left.

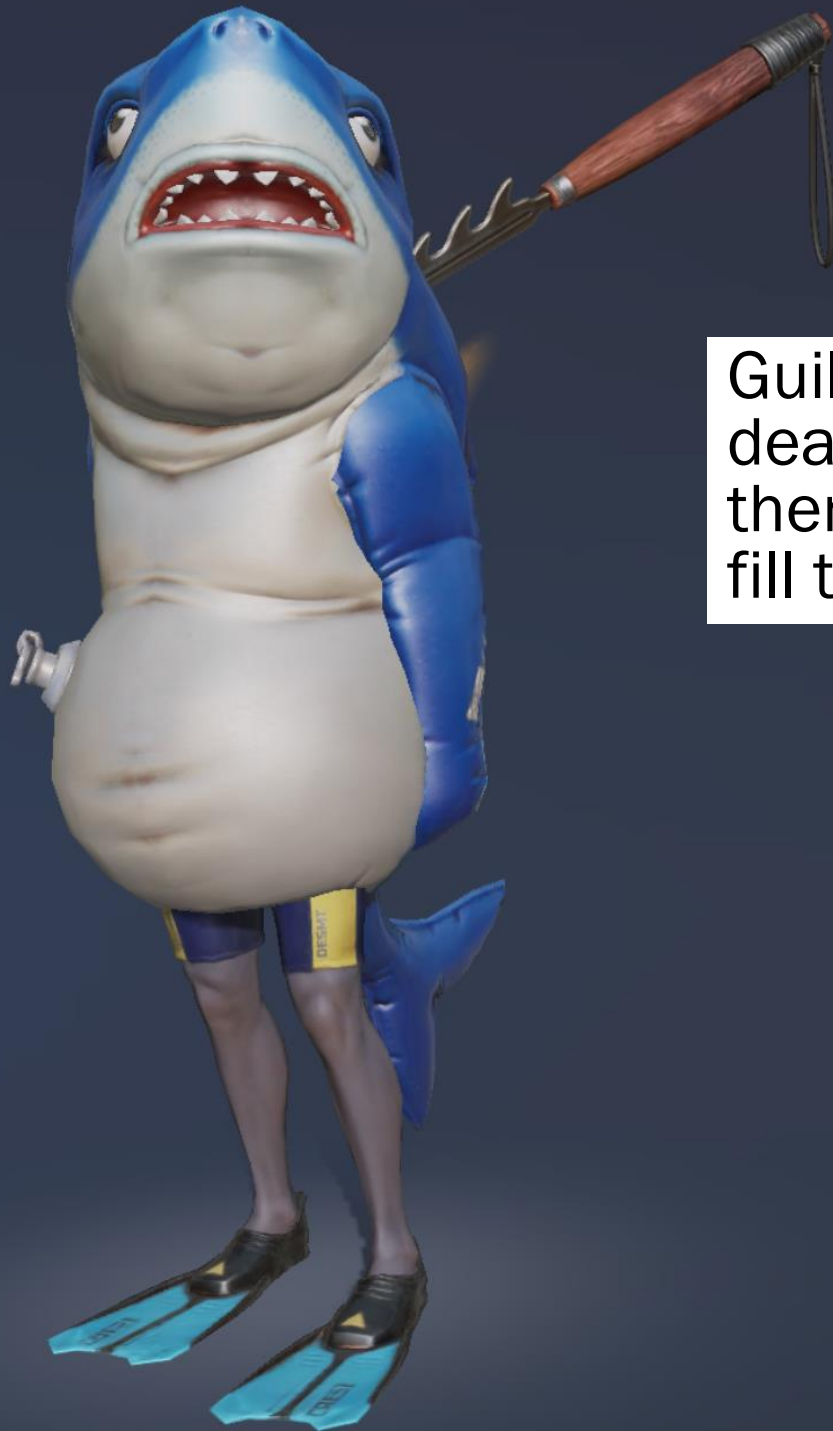

Regium had the brilliant idea of not recruiting new clans to replace BL and RR.

Just an excellent idea right there.

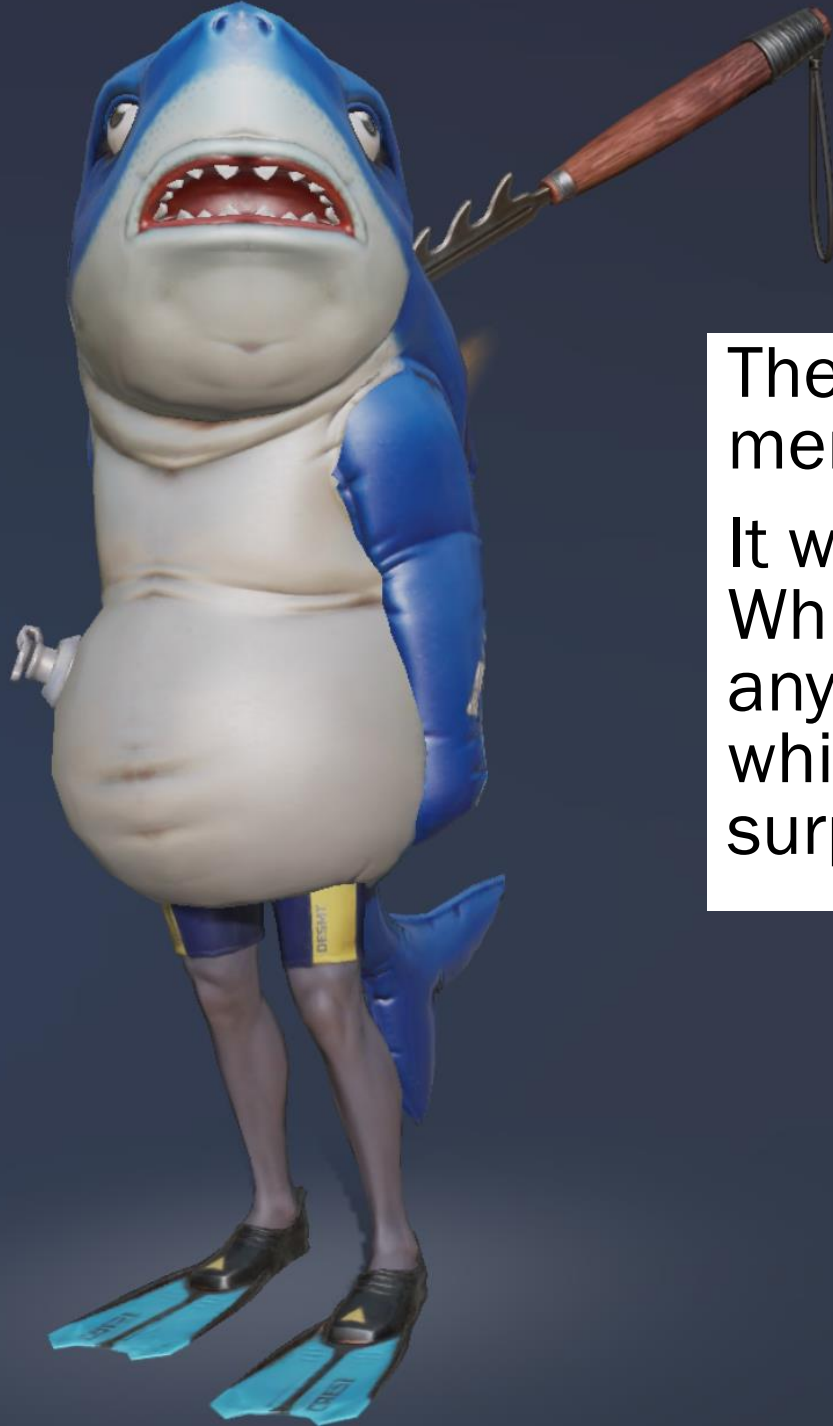

Vancy left.

Guild and Exiled# were dead clans, with both of them having to use alts to fill the ranks.

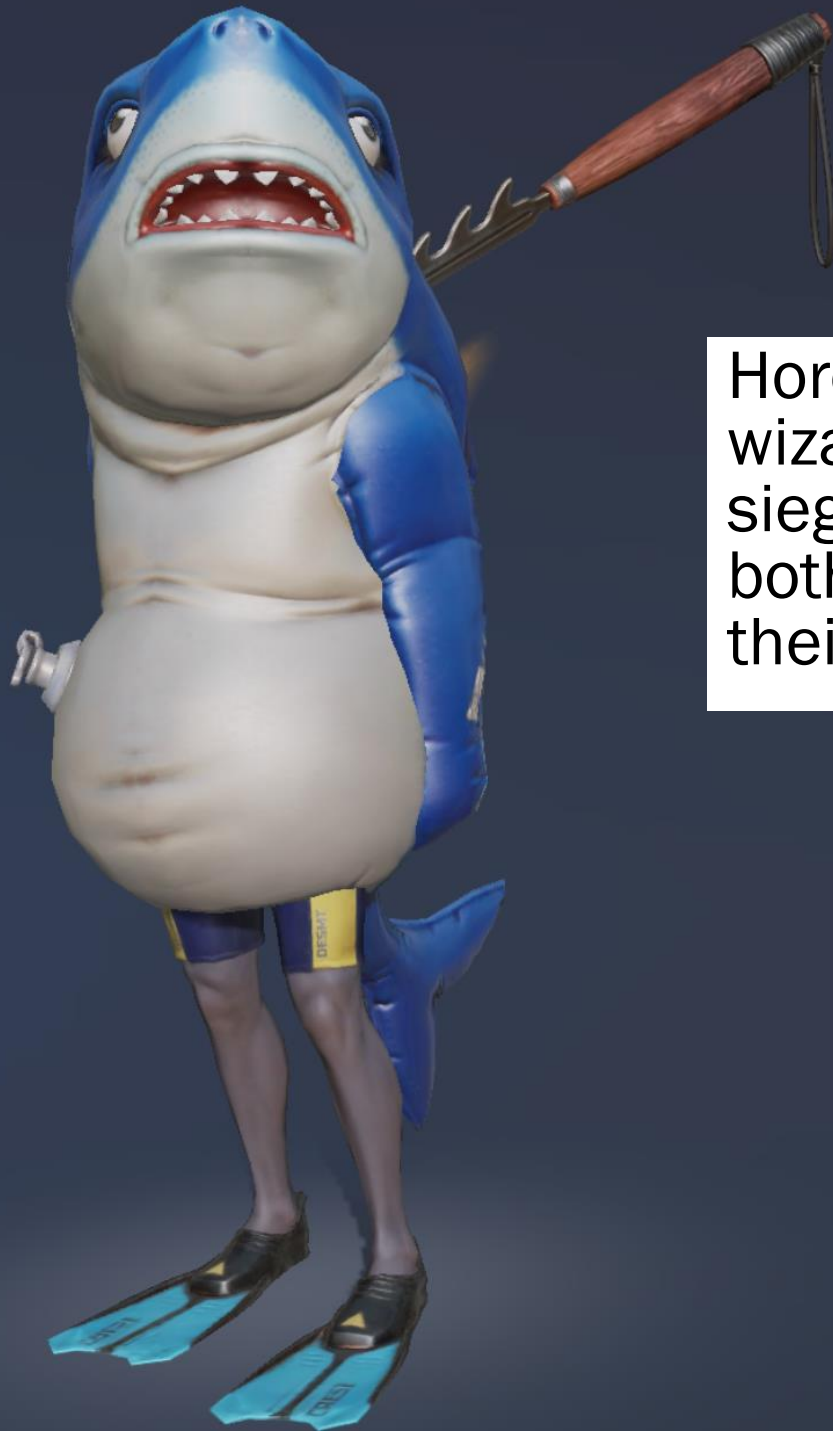

The two dead clans merged.

It was my proposal but Whut didn't involve me in any part of the merger, which was a very surprising thing.

Whut kept on negotiating with F4, and he kept on hating me.

Horde improved with BL's wizardry and awesome siege tactics. Horde took both castles and they held their shit down.

I wasn't there, but Encore merged with F4.

Even if I were there, I probably wouldn't have known about it due to The Hatred.

As for me, I joined RoyalClub for a few days,
then I left RC and I went through The Dark Times, then I joined GoW.

Don't ask about The Dark Times. I will not make a PowerPoint on The Dark Times.

That's it for The Incident.
Remember kids, don't talk about The Incident around Ariana!

Tune in next time when we discuss some other dumb shit from this phone game.
